

SECOND STUDY COMMISSION – CIVIL LAW AND PROCEDURE GEORGIA

1. Are there limits for written submissions in civil litigations in your jurisdiction in terms of the maximum length?

There is no such limitations.

2. Are there time limits for filing written submissions?

Yes, there is time limit to submit the law suit and as well procedural files.

3. Are there limits in terms of a maximum number of additional submissions in a case?

No, there is no such limits.

4. Are there rules, including penalties or cost implications, for breaches of these requirements?

No, there are not penalties.

5. Are these limits or requirements effective in terms of reducing the number and length of written submission and the time spent preparing for and determining a case?

N/A

6. What is the effect of written submissions on any hearing which subsequently takes place?

Mostly, all of the submissions should be in written form.

7. Comments or suggestions as to what could otherwise prove to be effective

No